

Garden Surprise

By Logan Chown (age 8)

One night Kevan dreamed about planting a garden so he woke up and he planted a garden. He went to bed and when he woke up he found blackberry bushes, strawberry plants, and a big mighty apple tree. Then garden trolls came out of the ground and ruined the garden. Oh no! So Kevan made friends with the Trolls and asked them to help him make his garden. Together they made the greatest garden ever and they were friends forever and they also stood up to bullies.

One day the greatest idea came to Kevan. The next day Kevan went outside and told his troll crew his idea. "What if we travelled the world and make people gardens. We would be the richest gardeners ever." Then a big yellow Troll came up and said you can make a garden in my backyard. "Sure, where's your house?" said Kevan. "Underground in Troll town." So they went to Troll town and made gardens there.

One day trouble came to Troll town. A giant ruthless Troll who had two big swords appeared to destroy Troll town. Kevan put his hands out and sharp vines came shooting out. The vines grabbed the troll and threw him away. It looks like Kevan found out that he has super powers. Kevan put his hands out like a circle blasting the Troll and capturing him. It looks like Troll town will be safe to grow beautiful gardens thanks to Kevan and his army of garden Trolls.

The End.

Your Troll gardens sound wonderful
and scary!
I'm glad Kevan does good with his superpowers.
